The main part of the church is three bays long with windows six lights over six. Flat brick arches are above these windows. The roof is covered with slate and has wide eaves. There is no steeple.

Chapel School HA-666

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Wesleyan Chapel is said to have been built by Christian Hoopman, a devout Christian and brick moulder. In his history of the Wesleyan Chapel, written in 1926, Jacob Walker, grandson of Christian Hoopman, explains that Christian and his brother, Peter, came to America shortly after this country's Declaration of Independence. Christian was instrumental in the establishment of the Wesleyan Chapel. Christian donated the land now occupied by the Church and cemetery.

In 1826, Christian Hoopman conveyed approximately two acres of Boyd's Exchange Enlarged to William Smith, William Dallam, John Reese, Jacob Hoopman, Evan Thomas, Aquila Dulany, and John Hoopman, trustees "that they shall erect and build thereon a house or place of public worship for the use of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America. This deed also mentions "with all and singular the houses, woods, water ways. . ."

About 1828 when the division occurred in the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Protestant Church came into existence, it is understood that Hoopman allowed his four children to decide with which branch of the church Wesleyan Chapel or Hoopman's Chapel, as it was so familiarly known for many years, should be affiliated. In deciding this question, Isaac, Jacob and Katherine voted to go the Methodist Protestant Church. John was a Methodist Episcopal preacher and he voted for that branch of the church.

The school lot next to the cemetery had been deeded to the Board of Education for many years but was returned to the Trustees of the Wesleyan Chapel in 1937.
